Course Overview:

The objective of this course is to provide you with basic knowledge and understanding of concepts and content areas in the discipline of sociology. The course materials focus on understanding basic social processes, and how to apply sociological concepts to issues and topics concerning you and your relationships within various human groups anywhere in the world. This course explores sociological approaches to the study of society. It develops your ability to think critically about issues and topics affecting societies around the world, that is, the application of sociological perspectives to various sectors of social life and patterns of social relations as they vary by social location. Thinking critically means (a) understanding the strengths and weaknesses of different and/or opposing points of view (b) no matter how strongly you believe that you are right and everyone else is wrong.

Learning Outcomes / Course Goals

Goals:

Students understand the systematic study of human behavior and cognition; the structure of human societies, cultures, and institutions; and the processes by which individuals, groups, and societies interact, communicate, and use human, natural, and economic resources.

Expected Learning Outcomes:

1. Identify major sociological theories, and compare and contrast their key concepts and assumptions.
2. Apply sociological theories to explain social phenomena.
3. Apply sociological concepts and principles to the study of organizations and specific examples of behavior and interaction.
4. Identify basic methods used in building sociological knowledge.
5. Explain the formation and durability of political, economic, and social organizing principles and their differences and similarities across contexts.
6. Assess the nature and values of organizations and politics and their importance in social problem solving and policy making.
7. Analyze quantitative and qualitative data to test hypotheses or address research questions.
8. Evaluate an argument based on its thesis, assumptions and supporting evidence.
